The emphasis is on evangelization, with programs like the Young Adult Day/Conference, Bayou Awakening, Charis Ignatian Spirituality Retreats, Discovering Love with Clarity, Challenging Faith Series and a summer speaker series Café Catholica which expanded to North, South and Central locations. These programs serve over 4,000 young adults per year; Vigilia Pastoral, Curso de Pastoral Juvenil and PasCon, that serves over 1,200 Spanish speaking young adults from different parishes.

The office also maintains campus ministries at the University of Houston, Texas Southern University, Sam Houston State University, Rice University, the schools of the Texas Medical Center, and the Galveston Newman Center, serving the University of Texas Medical Branch and Texas A&M at Galveston. These centers minister to both students and faculty, connecting Catholic faith with academic life, providing worship, catechesis and service opportunities, building up the Catholic community on campus, and providing leadership opportunities.

SPECIAL GRANTS

In addition to the Archdiocesan ministries and agencies indicated above, special grants are awarded to ministries and agencies operating within the Archdiocese of Galveston-Houston as determined by Cardinal DiNardo.

AID TO POOR PARISHES

In 1968 Bishop John L. Morkovsky, tasked then Father Joseph A. Fiorenza, now Archbishop Emeritus, and a committee of priests and laymen to find a way to regularly help support the poor parishes in the Archdiocese. They created the Aid to Poor Parishes program, which asked all pastors to donate 10% to this effort from their Thanksgiving and Christmas collections and tithing from their offertory. Later, Archbishop Fiorenza gave support to the program when he initiated a tax on the building parish projects and the DSF rebate program. Parishes that exceed their DSF goal, receive half the surpassed amount and the other half goes to the Aid to Poor Parishes Fund.

This fund benefits our parishes and schools in need through financial aid that allows them to continue valuable ministry programs for children and adults, as well as assist with property and building repairs.

Ministries reviewed and revised on September 1, 2018

The Archbishop of Galveston-Houston, Daniel Cardinal DiNardo, supports the inclusion of these 60+ ministries in the DSF appeal and has the discretion to change and/or add ministries at any time.
