University of St. Thomas: Center for Faith & Culture

The Donald S. Nesti, CSSp Center for Faith & Culture brings the Catholic voice to the ongoing conversation about the meaning of “life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness” held in common as Americans. The Center seeks to understand and impact the relationship among the many facets of the American way of life in relation to God’s ongoing, loving encounter with humanity. The Center educates faith-full citizens to be artisans of dialogue and proclamation of a God-centered vision of the world and how that vision strengthens the institutions that govern the American people. The Center’s programmatic offerings are designed to engage civic society and ecumenical/interreligious groups in dialogue related to today’s social and religious challenges.

The Nesti Center for Faith in Culture is honored to be an official member of the Network of Catholic Cultural Centers of the Vatican’s Pontifical Council for Culture.

University of Notre Dame ACE Program

The Alliance for Catholic Education (ACE) Teaching Fellows program responds to a call to prepare highly committed teachers for under-resourced Catholic schools around the nation. ACE Teachers bring imagination and zeal to help strengthen Catholic schools and empower marginalized children as they work to bring life and hope to communities in need. Since its founding in 1993, ACE has formed nearly 2,000 teachers — 75 percent of whom remain in education to this day — while many others have gone on to successful careers in medicine, law, business, engineering, and the academy.

Representing undergraduate institutions throughout the United States and abroad, ACE Teachers are formed through an innovative master's degree in education (M.Ed.) program that promotes best practice in instruction and assessment, the development of vibrant Christian community, and a commitment to spiritual growth. These three pillars — forming professional educators, building community, and growing spiritually — inform, inspire, and mobilize ACE Teachers throughout their time in the classroom and beyond. College graduates from all academic backgrounds are eligible to apply. Learn more here:
