

SEXUALITY CATECHESIS

The Archdiocesan Norms, Guidelines, and Resources for Lifelong Human Sexuality Catechesis provide all parishes and Catholic schools with systematic formation in human sexuality for all ages from early childhood through adulthood.

Catechists teaching human sexuality are asked to attend a specifically designed catechist formation in human sexuality. This formation will consist of completing the Archdiocesan Moral Teachings course (10 hours) and attending a specific sexuality catechesis course (3 hours).

The combination of the two formation courses will provide the catechist with a strong foundation in understanding the Church's teachings for living the moral life as well as offering practical skills and resources needed for catechizing one's specific age group.

The three-hour human sexuality catechesis course will encompass a basic understanding of the content of human sexuality catechesis and offers catechist skills and resources specific for the age of their learners.
