

Things To Remember

When the loss of a loved one occurs, there are many emotions and events that come together at a very difficult time. In order to better serve you and your family, we have created a listing of things to remember to ease the arrangement process and to honor your loved one's memory and celebrate their life.

We recommend that you bring the following information with you to the funeral home at the time of your appointment.

1. Clothing, including undergarments – We have a selection of clothing available that may be purchased, if desired
2. Eyeglasses and jewelry – These items may remain with your loved one or be removed and returned after the service
3. One recent photograph for cosmetic purposes
4. Veteran's discharge papers
5. Social Security number
6. Life insurance policies
7. List of 6 to 8 pallbearers, if applicable
8. A collection of valued photographs to illustrate your loved one's life through an Everlasting Memorial® Internet archive and a multimedia scrapbook of family memories

To facilitate death certificate requirements and placement of the newspaper notice/obituary, please provide the following information:

1. Mother's full name (including maiden name)
 2. Father's full name
 3. Birthplace
 4. Education
 5. Work history
 6. Church affiliation
 7. Organizations or memberships
 8. Special achievements
 9. Names of surviving relatives and the cities in which they live
(include parents, spouse, siblings, children, grandchildren, grandparents, etc.)
